History: 1991 a. 162; 1995 a. 27 ss. 7067, 9116 (5), 9130 (4); 1995 a. 180; 2007 a. 121; 2009 a. 211; 2011 a. 32, 107; 2013 a. 304; 2017 a. 222, 338; 2021 a. 47, 96; 2021 a. 238 s. 45; 2021 a. 239 s. 74.

There is nothing in this section or s. 709.02 that requires a seller to provide details of specific safety and health hazards associated with any property defect. Sellers of real estate are required to disclose general descriptions of potential defects in the property. In the case of a natural gas pipeline, this chapter does not require a seller to disclose all potential problems that could foreseeably arise as a result of the pipeline’s presence. Hoekstra v. Guardian Pipeline, LLC, 2006 WI App 245, 298 Wis. 2d 165, 726 N.W.2d 648, 03-2809.

Section 709.02 (1) and the statutory form under this section clearly set out the reasonable expectation regarding who may rely on a real estate condition report. In s. 709.02 (1), “prospective buyer” refers specifically to a buyer already in contract with the seller. Thus, that term in the context of the statute must be limited to a future buyer within the specific transaction at issue. The statutes establish that a seller must reasonably expect reliance by only the prospective buyer in the current transaction. Pagoudis v. Keidl, 2023 WI 27, 406 Wis. 2d 542, 988 N.W.2d 606, 20-0225.
